The Capilano Review Contemporary Arts Society would like to express its deepest thanks to the contributors, readers, and friends who have sustained its operations during an incredible fifty years of uninterrupted publishing.

An independent publishing platform and non-profit charity, we believe the space to experiment, play, challenge, and subvert is essential to the creation of writing and art that has the power to redefine, reimagine, and subtly remake our world.

Visit thecapilanoreview.com/donate to make a one-time or monthly contribution, and become a Friend of TCR.
